As I am a stranger, I beg you would assist me in getting a wife. 1 have about three hundred dollars laid up; am not particular as to looks, so she knows how to work. I am a Democrat in polities.

This morning he received a letter from a Fort Worth lady stating that she wants to marry and that she wants a carpenter and a Democrat and $300 all at this had a very severe case one stroke, and she thinks the card for four years, and has chance offered above as she rend it in bysicians, but saind ho re-She offers good looks as well as a knowledge of housework, and desires to be placed in correspondence with the party, whose address the mayor will furnish

It has been suggested that they hold over until the fair if they possibly can, and good, and I have thrown would be a novel wedding that would attract notice from every part of the state, and the fair association would set them up at housekeeping on a grand scale.

> Buck Turner was arraigned in Justice Braswell's court yesterday morning on and complaint of one Neimeyer, charging Turner with the theft of $100, committed on the 29th of May, 1889. Mr. Neimeyer testified that some days > before the day of the theft Maud Starr came to his house and rented a room. A few days thereafter the defendant came to his house and rented a room. On the day above mentioned Turner asked him for a loan of $10. Witness produced a roll of money when defendant snatched a $100 bill from his hands. Witness followed defendant to front door demanding his money, but the latter refused to give it up. Witness did not send anyone after defendant nor ask the assistance of Louis Geiber, who was present, in recovering his money. He didn't report the fact to any officer. Defendant remained several days at his house after this becurrence, but saw him only once. Turner and Maud Starr left his house while he was down town. Witness knew he was going to Gainesville, but did not try to stop him. The reason why was because he knew he could catch him at any time; he wanted to give him time and a chance to square himself. There was a lot of theatrical scenery at Gainesville he wanted and wrote to defendant about it. The letter was written about the money and he mentioned the cenery in it:

> Maud Starr testified to Turner's asking Neimeyer for the loan of $50, which was granted. Defendant and Neimeyer were together after that and was present when she and defendant left for Gainesville. Plaintiff wrote to defendent about buying some show fixtures at Gainesville.

Justice Brasswell bound over the defendant, Buck Turner, to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $300. in the afternoon a writ of habeas corpus was sued out returnable before Judge Tucker, who, after a hearing of the case, discharged the defendant from custody. ON 'CHANGE.

Short Cotton Unchanged, Futures were from One to Three Points Higher.

Wheat Opened Lower, Fluctuated Narrowly and Closed Lower-Coffee and Wool Markets Unchanged.

> Daily Reveiw. OFFICE OF THE GAZETTE,

FORF WORTH, TEX., July 25, 1889. To-day has been one of the warmest of the season, the rays of the sun striking the earth with the intensity of a piledriver. Business seems to have been affected materially by it and the volume of trade during the day was very light both in wholesale and retail circles.

Wheat receipts except by rail continue light, the roads being so bad on account of the recent rains that farmers cannot haul their grain to market. What is true with wheat is also true with all kinds of country produce.

Feed stuffs are quiet, though there have been some changes in quotations, as will be seen below. The general run of merchandise, however, has undergone no change in prices since last report, and at the close of the market to-day the figures quoted below ruled.

The Southern cotton growers have better exports than any other class of agriculturalists in the world. Markets are promised in far Eastern countries. The Chinese, Japanese and other people of the far East, are learning how to use cotten goods and our present exports to these countries are steadily improving.

Last year importations of flax, hemp and jute products footed up $23,000,000, in addition to $17,000,000 worth of raw material. The imported linen fabrics were worth $15,000,000. The other side of the picture is that every year a million tons of flax straw is going to waste in this country. What is the matter?

Two thousand ramie plants were recently brought from Louisana and planted in Pennsylvania. 'A company has been quietly organized in that state for introducing ramie culture on a large scale and this is the initiative step. The Landreths, the well known seed people, are active participants in the new scheme, and several acres of their farm near Philadelphia will be devoted to the cultivation of the plant. The best part of the whole scheme is that a decortication machine has been invented and is now being made, which surpasses all other similar machines in its manner of working. It goes into the field like a barvester and acquaints itself with the plants as they are growing rapidly, separating the fibrous matter from the nonfibrous. The inventor is a member of

CHICAGO, ILL., July 26.—The wheat market to-day has been rather nervous and spasmodic with a feeling decidedly weaker. The opening figures were % % % below yesterday's closing prices. A steadier and firmer feeling was developed toward the close, and prices rallied fractionally from the inside figures. A moderate radius was reported in corn early in the case. ate trading was reported in corn early in the session, after which the market ruled rather quiet. There was considerable pressure to sell pork, while the demand was only fair. The feeling was unsettled and accompanied with considerable irregularity in prices. Only fair trade in
